Chatting about the weather

Talking about the weather is a good way of starting a conversation. You can talk about the weather everywhere and with everyone, on the phone or in person. There are a lot of words and expressions to talk about the weather. When we talk about the weather, we generally tell how many degrees it is outside, and whether it is sunny, cloudy or rainy. If you want to find out what the weather is like, you can listen to the weather report on the radio or watch it on TV. Weather forecasts usually give information about the current day and about the next couple of days.

Mike: Hello Donna! What are you doing?

Donna: I'm watching the weather forecast. I'm planning to cut the grass and trim the bushes in the garden tomorrow. I wonder if it will rain or not. I don't want to get soaked to the skin.

Mike: I see. What will you do if it rains?

Donna: If it rains, I'll have to postpone the garden jobs and clean the house instead.

Mike: I hope it won't rain and you'll be able to do all that you want. It seems you'll be able to do the gardening.

Donna: I hope it'll be clear and sunny because I don't like working outside when it's cold and dump.

Mike: The weather will be nice and you'll enjoy yourself.

Donna: I hope so!

A weather forecast

"If you went out today, I don't have to say that it was clear but humid for most of the country, with the high temperatures in the low 20s. The city of Sheffield had the high for the day of 25 degrees Celsius. ... and that's not very hot for this time of the year. If you're planning outdoor activities tomorrow you can expect clear skies for most of Saturday with temperatures in the high 20s. However, things might change by Saturday evening with a storm front moving in. We can expect light scattered showers over the western part of the country bringing slightly cooler temperatures but this rain should end by mid Sunday morning. It will be partly cloudy for most of the morning but these clouds move out by mid-afternoon."

What is the weather like in Hungary?

The climate of the Hungary can be described as typical European continental influenced climate with warm, dry summers and fairly cold winters. January is the coldest month with daytime temperatures usually around zero, but in some cases winter months can be very cold with temperatures far below zero and strong, cold north-easterly winds, especially in the mountainous regions. Heavy snowfall or even snowstorms are also possible on some days.

In summer daytime temperatures reach 20-25°C, but sometimes quite higher, 30°C or more. In most of the time it is dry with sunny spells, although sometimes heavy thunderstorms can occur at the end of the day. July is the warmest month with an average temperature of 22°C. Annual precipitation is about 400-600 mm.

Generally, the weather is best from May until September, when days are warm and the nights are cool, although it rains more in spring than in summer. Autumn and winter are usually a little chilly and wet, sometimes snowy and often foggy, especially in the mountainous regions.
